ETHYL HAYDEN IS TO GIVE VOCAL RECITAL HERE THIS EVENING

One of the Best Lyric Soprano Singers Before Public.

Ethyl Hayden, engaged for the first program of the entertainment course, will give a recital tonight at the Congregational Church. Miss Hayden is heralded by New York and Boston critics as one of the foremost lyric soprano singers before the public today, and her program tonight promises to be one of the most delightful musicals presented to a Middlebury audience for several years.

Miss Hayden has had a brilliant career. From her childhood she has had outstanding musical inclinations, and her life has been one of steady progression from holding prominent church choir positions to her status now as one of the finest of American concert sopranos.

Miss Hayden owes the greater part of her early training to Miss Jean Seaman, with whom she studied as a girl in Washington. Miss Seaman gave the young singer that encouragement and thorough training in the fundamentals of music which is foundation of her present artistic equipment. Miss Seaman is now head of the vocal department in Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburg.

After her early training had been completed, Miss Hayden felt the need for coming to New York and finishing her preparation for the concert stage with one of the greatest vocal teachers in the world, Mme. Marcella Sembrich. Miss Hayden remained studying with Mme. Sembrich for five years, but in less than two years she was ready for her first New York recital.

Miss Hayden made an immediate success of her debut, and was hailed by the music critics of New York as one of the foremost of American concert artists, and as one of the greatest of Mme. Sembrich's long list of celebrated pupils. Since then Miss Hayden has sung many engagements throughout the country and has given three New York recitals.

PICTURES FOR 1929 KALEID BEING MADE

Individual pictures of the members of the Junior class are being taken this week by the Warren Kay Vantine Studio of Boston. Mr. Vantine has installed a complete equipment in Hamlin Hall and expects to finish taking the men's college by tomorrow afternoon. The individual pictures of the Junior women will be taken next week. Mr. Johnson of the Warren Kay studio, who was here in June making campus views and group pictures is also in Middlebury and is taking several night pictures of the college buildings.

Other plans for the 1929 Kaleidoscope are working out well and the board promises the class a book which while similar to former annuals in general makeup will yet be distinctively a 1929 production.

CUP TO BE GIVEN TO WINNER OF THE CAMPUS CONTEST FOR ALMA MATER

Contributions for the Campus Alma Mater song contest have already begun to come in. From the spirit manifested among interested students as well as alumni, there is every reason to expect that a large number of lyrics will be submitted.

The Campus will probably make an announcement of a monetary prize at a later date, but a large cup has already been ordered and will be on display before the end of the contest.

In answer to questions received from several competitors it may be stated that a manuscript copy of the music must be submitted, with the words written between the staffs.

There are still two weeks remaining before the contest closes, and all men and women with any poetic ability are urged to compete.

CURRICULUM COMMITTEE APPOINTED AND NEWLY ORGANIZED

Members Are Hinman, Furbush, Simmons, Lee, Talbot and Harris.

Following nominations by the Student Council and appointment by the administration, the following men from the class of 1928 compose the Curriculum Committee: Rollin A. Furbush, George Harris, Jr., George R. Hinman, W. Storrs Lee, Carleton H. Simmons, and Donald P. Talbot. Lee was elected chairman by the committee, and Hinman secretary.

The committee, as reorganized, forms a much more wieldy body, being smaller, and is representative of practically every college activity. With this in mind, it is expected to accomplish much in the way of reporting student and curriculum difficulties.

Its aim and function remains the same as it was when first started. It serves as a medium between faculty and students in all matters relating to the curriculum. It investigates complaints made by members of the student body and by faculty alike, working for the best interests of both. The Committee also engages itself in an independent study of the curriculum in all its aspects and from time to time makes recommendations for changes. Members of the student body are asked to report in writing any dissatisfaction with the present curriculum to a member of the committee. The student's name will be withheld if so asked.

At the first regular meeting held on Monday night, Alice Fales, Katharine B. Burtis and Helen H. French were elected members of an auxiliary committee. Women may report difficulties to these members.

The Committee has made the following recommendations after careful consideration: that courses counting toward majors in two different departments be made to count toward minors; that there be an examination in composition during Freshman week of all entering Freshmen, and those deficient be required to take a one hour course during that year, and do away with the requirement of taking such a course in the Sophomore year; and that there be required a one period course in public speaking for graduation, this course to be taken during the Sophomore, Junior, or Senior years. The committee is also making a study of the required course in the History of English Literature.

Woman's Debating Society Holds First Meeting

Women's Debating opened the season of 1927-28 when the society held its first meeting at Dr. Ross's on October 17. From the number of girls at the meeting who reported to be interested in debating the prospects for a good season are very favorable. Negotiations are being carried on with St. Lawrence and other Universities to arrange debates which will be held this winter.

The women who expressed their desire to join the Debating Society were:

Dorothy Pollard '29, Gretchen Taylor '29, Mildred Senecal '28, Elizabeth McDermott '29, Eloise White '29, Florence Porter '28, Ethel Palmer '28, Florence Lockerby '30, Muriel Johnson '30, Frances Spear '29, Marion Cruikshank '30, Sylvia Westin '29, Theda Brown '29, Helen Perry '30, Priscilla March '31, Louise Browne '30, Carolyn Belcher '29, Dorothea Higgins '30, Elizabeth Dyer '30, Gwendolyn Thatcher '28, Ethel Rogers '31, Helen Huntley '30, Lara Wheaton '29, Marion Hinman '28.

MARGARET MOODY

MARGARET MOODY '28 ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE ENGLISH CLUB

New Membership Plans Are Made at Recent Meeting.

Margaret Moody '28 was elected president of the English Club at a meeting held in Pearsons Social Hall last Wednesday evening. Other officers for the ensuing year are Arthur Yeaw '28, vice president, and Ethel Palmer '28, secretary-treasurer. Plans for club activities were discussed and Professor Wilfred E. Davison read selections from the poetry of Robert Frost.

Membership in the English Club is to be made up of Juniors and Seniors who are interested in literature. A real interest in things literary is a sufficient reason for any Junior or Senior to apply for membership in the organization. Those who wish to do so are asked to hand their names to Miss Moody or Miss Palmer, Mr. Yeaw, Donald Talbot or Storrs Lee. This will constitute application for membership and should be completed on or before October 19, after which date invitations will be mailed to the members-elect.

The program for the year will include monthly meetings of a social nature at which informal talks or readings will be given by members of the faculty or others invited to address the club. All Juniors and Seniors interested in belonging to the English Club are cordially invited to make their interest known to the officers of the club or to Mr. Talbot or Mr. Lee.

MacLean '29 Elected Campus Sports Editor

At a meeting of the Campus board yesterday morning, David H. MacLean '28 was elected to the position of Campus Sports editor. The election answers a long-felt need for a person to occupy this position. MacLean has been on the board since last spring, and has been a reporter since the latter part of his freshman year.

Besides the Campus activities, Mr. MacLean is a member of the Wig and Pen, Sports Editor of the 1929 Kaleidoscope; he is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

Blue Shows Up Well in the First Home Game of Season.

TEAM WITHSTANDS BATTERING ATTACKS

Goals Made by Guarnaccia and Hinman in Second and Third Periods.

Using a brand of straight, old-fashioned football Middlebury defeated the Mass Aggie eleven 12-0, Saturday on Porter Field, in a rather drab game which lacked the thrilling moments which one expects in football. The only bright spots were the all-around play of Guarnaccia, and Hinman's catch of Whittemore's long pass and racing twenty yards for the second touchdown, early in the third period. The weakened condition of the team, plus the many off-side penalties kept the Black Panthers from running up a much larger score. Captain Furbush, tackle, Gollnick, quarter, and Bedell, second-string guard, were out of the game with leg injuries received in the Williams game and in scrimmage last week. Jones, who was playing a whale of a game at guard was forced out at the beginning of the second quarter with a knee injury further weakening the team.

First Period.

M. A. C. chose to receive. Whittemore kicked off to Kneeland who ran the ball back to 38 yard line. Rudquist punted 40 yards on the first play, Johnson returning it to the Blue 42 yard line. Hinman went off-tackle for six yards. The next play was fumbled, Kneeland recovering for the Aggies. Visitors' ball on Blue 38 yard line. Three plunges netted three yards. Rudquist punted to Middlebury 10 yard marker, Johnson returning it five. Johnson went through center for 9 yards. Whittemore made two for first down. Marx broke through and threw Hinman for a one yard loss. Wihttemore kicked outside at M. A. C. 45 yard line. Ball to Aggies. Webber threw Kneeland for a one yard loss. Kneeland made four through the line. A forward was incomplete. Rudquist punted 40 yards. Whittemore punted 25 yards. M. A. C. ball. Rudquist one. Cook two. Incomplete forward pass. Punt to Middlebury 15 yard line. Whittemore. 6. Hinman 2. Johnson 1. Whittemore punted twenty-five yards, which Kneeland returned eight. Kneeland four. Cook 5. Middlebury penalized five yards for off-side giving M. A. C. a first down. Cook two. Kneeland made ten around end for first down. Cook one. Kneeland one. Two forwards failed, giving the ball to Middlebury on own 21 yard marker. Hinman made nine from punt formation as the quarter ended. Middlebury 0, M. A. C. 0.

Second Period.

Johnson made it first down. Guarnaccia five. Jones injured in last play. McNary for Jones. Johnson made four around end. Guarnaccia three, first down. Hinman one. A pass, Johnson to Maynard, was incomplete. Whittemore got a surprise punt off for thirty yards. Cook nine. Kneeland made two and first down. Kneeland again made two. Cook four. On the next play Huntington broke through and nailed Kneeland for a two yard loss. Kneeland was doing most of the carrying for the visitors. Rudquist's 25 yard punt was returned eight yards by Johnson. Whittemore made six on an end run. Johnson added two. Whittemore no gain. Whittemore punted outside on the 28 yard line. Cook one. ## WALL-FLOWER.

Your Knowledge of Human Nature Governs Your Success in Life. Whether you expect to be a lawyer, a minister or a boot-legger you cannot evade facing this axiom. Whether you expect throughout your life to deal in stocks and bonds, insurance policies, or second-hand cars, you must first deal with human nature. There is no escape.

One cannot achieve any niche in life without mingling with fellow men. One must know them, be able to understand their temperaments and dispositions, able to compete with them, and give them their proper value. To understand human nature one must socialize, make friendly contacts with other human beings.

It is a very rare person who could say without prejudice that he does not care to socialize. We are innately gregarious, and only the one-sided iddividual desires to be a silent spectator in a corner. His desire to remain in obscurity most often arises from laziness. It requires effort, sometimes very intelligent effort, to socialize. And the wall-flowers would rather remain in the back-ground unobserved than exert himself.

Every college evidently must have its share of wall-flowers, men and women with lazy dispositions or inferiority complexes. They possess hidden and unexpressed goals, making the track team or the Glee Club, or the Blue Baboon board. But they are sure that someone else is much better and their effort of competition would be useless and uncalled-for. And the wall-flower bench remains occupied.

If you are not getting the satisfaction out of life that belong to you, it is no one's fault but your own. No one is coming to your corner to introduce you to the world. You must make your own debut. Why not let your yearnings combine with natural ability and accomplish something? This is college spirit now, but it will be the spirit which you must show to the world a few years from now. And only by making this "debut" can you really socialize or obtain an insight into life.

Your Knowledge of Human Nature Governs Your Success in Life.

"DON'T CRAB, KICK!"

What is wrong with Education 17 as it is taught? Does the professor who professes to be teaching Mathematics 43 know what it is all about? Are you getting what you should out of Political Science 28? Is Spanish 98 what it is cracked up to be? Has Professor Whatshisname the least conception of what an educational ideal is, or is he just disposing of your time and the college's money? Are you being cheated by Middlebury College because you aren't getting your money's worth?

The Curriculum Committee, now reorgannized, is at your service. It has as its foremost purpose the discovery of just what is wrong with the present curriculum. After all the students are and should be the judges of their courses, and there are a few colleges in the United States where students have as direct an opportunity of constructively criticising what they are getting by way of education. We are most fortunate in having an administration which offers itself to criticism by the student body.

The Curriculum Committee is organized as a medium between students and administration. It is a court of appeals, open to every case relative to the efficiency of the present curriculum. If there is something wrong with one of the courses you are taking, let a member of the committee know about it. Tell him rather than your roommate; it will do much more good. The problem will be considered by the committee, organized, and reported to President Moody. This is your chance for putting up a kick if you are not getting your money's worth out of college.

"DEW, DEW, DEWEY DAY."

There are times and times for all things. And there are songs and songs for every occasion. But whether "Side by Side" and "Dew, Dew, Dewey Day" are appropriate music for football games, the Campus questions.

The College has a songbook containing at least twenty songs which would be appropriate to sing or play at games. If orchestrations of at least a few of these have not been made, there is little question about the possibility of making them, and the cost would be minor in the end, since they will last permanently.

Suppose that the cheer leader led the grandstand in chorusing "Blue-eyed Baby" or "Love me a Little." This would be musical comedy, and any ordinary fighting eleven would rebel. And if popular songs are appropriate between most exciting intervals of a game, why not give the Black Panther Serenaders white ducks, blue sweaters, sailor hats, and let them tune in.

COMMUNICATION.

An Open Letter.

To the Editor of The Campus:

It is one of the well-known characteristics of the Middlebury CAMPUS that the opinion of a single student on matters of policy relating to the paper is always brought to the attention of the public.

The present writer is merely an undergraduate offering what he sincerely believes to be a constructive criticism of the CAMPUS, a criticism the cause of which he hopes will be removed.

When one first glances at last week's CAMPUS, it is noticeable that one of the more important recent events is missing from the front page. I mean the write-up of the Williams-Middlebury game.

Every fall the alumni of each college prepare for their annual pilgrimage back to the dear old Alma Mater to see the ancient rival humbled in the dust. And previous to the time of departure, they earnestly scan all news columns to learn the probable fate of the BIG GAME. To those of them who subscribe to the college newspaper, it may seem strange that news of a purely local nature is given front page space. To them, sports, and football in particular, still typify the spirit of their college days. They will be more interested in the Glee Club and similar organizations at a later time in the year.

Then, too, to a majority of students football is now all-important. It is THE time during the college year when college meets college in a struggle for supremacy, when the united student body cheers on their team to victory or shares defeat with them. And the following week, nearly every student reads up last week's game before looking at the rest of the paper.

To Middlebury College and our football team in particular is due considerable publicity for the prominence gained by nearly defeating Williams. And the game was well written up. But no well-written game can survive tucked away within a college paper. It must stand out, literally as it does figuratively.

We hear constant complaints from our alumni that the bigger papers contain no Middlebury news. Can we expect them to give us a half-column of space in their sport section when we don't give ourselves front page prominence?

To sum up the argument of this letter, one cannot help deploring the lack of sportsmanship shown in failing to give more prominence to an event which should stand out in the 1927 football season. The football team has every right to feel injured.

Sincerely,
AN UNDERGRADUATE.

By Way of Reply and Explanation.

The CAMPUS most sincerely welcomes the above criticism, and it will be heeded. Hereafter the principal game of the week will start on the front page.

In answer to a great deal of criticism last year that the CAMPUS as a publication was unorganized, that one could never tell where to find athletics and other activities written up, we have started a Sports Page. This will ordinarily be on page three. By some accident last week the printers mixed page three and four, and not until the CAMPUS appeared was it known by the editors. Page four is the least conspicuous sheet in the paper, and the CAMPUS seriously appologizes for subordinating the Williams game write-up by having it on this page. It was an unavoidable mistake, and will not occur again under ordinary circumstances.

Placing the varsity game on the front page will necessarily decrease the value of the sport page, but we will do so if the college as a whole wishes this. The CAMPUS is handicapped at present by having no sports editor, but it is hoped that one can be elected, at least temporarily, before the next issue. We realize that sports in many of the past issues have not been given proper space. This is caused by the lack of a responsible sports editor, however, it is a firm policy of the CAMPUS to give sports the leading place, and greater effort in the future will be exerted to do this.

The Editor wishes to thank the above writer for his criticism, and would appreciate more CONSTRUCTIVE criticism from the student body.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF.

COMMUNICATION

North Stratford, N. H.
October 10th, 1927.

To the Editor of The Campus:

I read with a great deal of pleasure the article in your last issue under date of October 5th, 1927, relative to the contest for a new Middlebury College Alma Mater.

In my estimation it is a very wise move on the part of all those behind it, they should be congratulated and it is the duty of every alumnus as well as every Undergraduate who has any musical ability whatsoever to join in the movement and make the same a "Howling Success."

Middlebury College is an institution that one can well be proud of. She has grown from a small unnoticed unspoken of college to an institution with not only state-wide influence, but with influence felt throughout the entire world. Her graduates can be found in every walk of life doing their part and showing, in so doing, the training which they received within the walls of Starr, Painter and the Old Chapel Building while members of the undergraduate body.

I remain very truly yours.

TUFTS PREPARING FOR CONFLICT WITH BLUE

Middlebury Game To Be Their Big Fooball Event of Season.

The Middlebury eleven by no means faces an easy conflict next Saturday when it meets Tufts. The Boston college is ready for the Vermont invaders both in spirit as well as in metal. Saturday has been set aside by them as the big football day of the season; it is a homecoming day for the Alumni there, and evidently they are planning a red letter day in preparation for a big game with plenty of color and spirit attached. And Middlebury is thoroughly prepared.

The Tufts sport editor asserts that the first game with Lowell Textile was no criterion of their ability; but they certainly matched it when they conquered Bates 28-0. Tufts was considerably lighter than the Bates eleven, but the former appeared with a crew unmatched in fighting spirit.

Ellis stars for Tufts, a backfield man with an enviable record for broken field running. He is a four-letter man and extremely versatile. He kicks, punts, passes, and runs the team in general, weighing about 156, fast and involnerable. A heavy struggle can be expected from Kennedy, their 169 pound hard running half.

In the line the most outstanding man is Jim Fitzgerald, a red-headed 200-pound tackle who stands well over six feet. He scored the longest drop-kick of 55 yards last season. Captain Bowker sprained his ankle the day before the Bates game, and will probably not be in the game on Saturday.

The statistics of the Tufts squad is as follows:

Head Coach, Arthur G. Samson, Assist. Coach, Lewis F. Manly, Manager, John P. Krezminski.

YEARLING ELEVEN DEFEATED 19 TO 6

Freshmen Play Clark School At Hanover, N. H., for First Game.

Coach Hessler's yearlings were defeated by the Clark School eleven, 19 to 6, in the opening game of the season at Hanover, N. H., last Saturday. Although considerably outweighed and outplayed the Freshman team put up a game fight throughout despite the injuries to Keenan, Hagenbuckle and Whitman.

Soon after the kickoff the Clark aggregation lost the ball to the Middlebury freshman on downs. A futile attempt to pierce the line made the Freshmen punt, but they lost distance when the kick was blocked. With the ball well advanced into the defensive territory the yearlings held for downs but were consideably weakened by an ankle injury to Keenan who was forced to leave the game.

After an exchange of punts the Clark School team advanced down the field and made their first score and added an extra point with a drop kick.

A blocked kick gave the ball to the Middlebury team on Clark's 25 yard line. This augmented by a penalty for off-side gave the Middlebury team a chance to score and Cook, a fullback, carried the ball over for the lone Freshman tally.

The second half started with the

PRESIDENT MOODY SPEAKS AT VESPERS

Self Respect is Given Emphasis as Theme of Sermon.

Because of the illness of President Richmond of Union College, who was scheduled to speak at Vespers, Sunday afternoon, President Paul D. Moody gave the address, choosing as his text a verse from Nehemiah: "And I said, Should such a man as I flee? and who is there, being such as I, would go into the temple to save his life? I will not go in."

"Self respect is one of the most valuable things in the world, and when one loses it, one is entirely lost. The world may be ignorant of a deception but the knowledge of our own frailty and our lack of self respect steals away the pleasure of achievement. As no one ever hears his voice as others hear it, so one never really knows himself, and deception of one's self is easier than that of any one else.

"Self respect is the basis of self control and courtesy. A lack of self control invariably causes regret. It is the basis of courage. The brave man is afraid to fear and fights on in the darkness, overcoming great obstacles, lest he lose his self respect in his defeat.

"Self respect is the foundation of honor, the basis of perseverance. We strive on because there is a standard to be maintained. Because it maintains standards, self respect is greatly needed in the world today.

"Finally, the secret of self respect is a sense of the invisible— the conviction that there is a greater life before us—and the heart of the invisible is God. No one can keep his self respect if he does not believe in God."

10 YEARS AGO

(Taken from the October 10, 1917, issue of the CAMPUS.)

Middlebury won the first football game of the season Saturday afternoon on the home field from Amherst College by the score of 19 to 7. Although the field was quite muddy and a slight rain was falling in the second half, the game was well played thruout. Middlebury was penalized a few times for being offside and twice for holding. Amherst received but two slight penalties. In view of the many changes caused by the war, it was quite impossible to predict the manner in which the game would be played. . . . "Brainy" Bower as usual was very much in evidence and played a fine game for Midd, as did also Aines and Keppler.

Variety at Hillside.

We all have our troubles in this world, even Hillsideites cannot escape. To begin with, Monday night, October 1, 1917, at twenty minutes past ten all the lights at Hillside became invisible. The girls were working hard as usual and many of them felt very badly at having to discontinue their studies so early in the evening. Much inconvenience was caused also as some of the girls had mislaid their patent curlers and the halls of Hillside were filled with wailing as each of the maids thought of her curlless condition on the morrow. Finally the house chairman, a woman of a brave and adventurous disposition, descended into the lower regions and produced forthwith some candles. Presently the light of other days shone in unrivalled splendor and quiet reigned once more.

Was this all? Nay, not so. The next evening flames were seen to pour from the cellar windows and smoke filled the house. The town fire department turned out in all its glory and even Prexy came along to superintend the affair. And why all this excitement? A freshman had left the electric iron with the current on, reposing on the ironing board. Now while we are speaking of this matter, freshmen, it might be well to inform you that such things are not done at Middlebury, especially at Hillside.

She: I dream my stories.

He: My! how you must hate to go to bed.—Athenaeum, (W. Va.)

Seven Middlebury Men Now In Yale Graduate Schools

Seven Middlebury men are now enrolled in four of the graduate and professional schools of Yale University. This is an increase of four over last year's number. The men and their departments are:

Harold Higgins '27 and Lester Q. Stewart '26 are entered in first year Medicine, and Daniel Wexler '24 is in his second year in the same department.

Gordon Brokenshire '25 is entered in his first year at Divinity school. James C. McLeod '26 is in his second year there, and is also pastor of First Church, Bethany, Conn., where he preached all summer.

Lester W. Schaefer '26 is entered in second year at Law school.

J. Audrey Clark '26 is in the second year at the Department of Drama in the Fine Arts school, and is a member of Prof. George Pierce Baker's "47" course in Playwriting.

Donald D. Fredrickson and Miss Dorothy B. Johnson, both of the class of '25 were married at Newburyport, Mass., October 1. Mrs. Fredrickson has been teaching French in the high school of Port Jefferson, Long Island. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi and Phi Beta Kappa fraternities. Mr. Frederickson who is in business in New York York City is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity. Mr. Fredrickson and his bride will be at home at 455 Ocean Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., after November 15.

New Haven, Conn.—(IP)—Warren Pershing, only son of the American commander in the World War, has entered Yale as a freshman this year. He is a graduate of Phillips-Exeter Academy.

INTERCOLLEGIATE

Newark, Del.—(IP)—Whether or not Ace Taylor, of the University of Delaware, will be offered a place in the movies, is not known, but it is known that the movie football story can come true.

Ace never played a game of football until last Saturday. For most of the game he sat on the sidelines and admired the husky lads who were fortunate enough to be members of the first string squad.

It wasn't almost the end of the game, but it was near the end of the first half, with the score at 0-0, when the St. Joseph team got a bit rough, and De Joseph, a halfback on the Delaware team was taken from the game.

Taylor was the coach's choice to fill the vacancy. He went in. The ball was snapped. Taylor received it, skirted the end, broke through the blocks, and ran twenty-five yards for the only and winning touchdown of the game.

Ace Taylor is now a member of the regular University of Delaware football squad. The wedding may take place any time now.

Ada, Ohio—(IP)—C. B. Moore, owner of a local motion picture house has offered members of the Ohio Northern and the Ada high school football teams free tickets to his theater every time their teams win a game.

Topeka, Kans.—(IP)—Taking advantage of the fact that they outnumbered the men in the class nearly two to one, the women in the class of 1928, Washburn college, elected co-eds to every office in the class elections just held.

MIDDLEBURY ALUMNI IN HARVARD LAW SCHOOL

(Special to THE CAMPUS)

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 12—Three Middlebury alumni were among the 50 per cent of the first year class at Harvard Law School enabled by success in their June examinations to go on into second year studies this fall. The three were John E. Connelly, Jr., Robert "Shortie" Rice, and Dana S. Hawthorne, all of Middlebury '26. Connelly and Rice received passing marks in all courses, Hawthorne dropping one.

EIGHTY COUPLES AT INFORMAL.

The second informal dance of the season was held Saturday evening, October 8, in the McCullough Gymansium. The chaperons were Dr. and Mrs. Stephen A. Freeman and Professor and Mrs. Albert Ranty.

About eighty couples attended, forming a much larger crowd than that of last week. Music was furnished by the Black Panther Serenaders.

Greenville, S. C.—(IP)—Fraternities have been reinstated at Furnam university here this year for the first time since 1898 when the trustees of the institution outlawed them. Kappa Alpha was the first fraternity to enter after the ban lifted, renewing an old charter.

New York—(IP)—Alumni of Harvard and Princeton, all former football stars in college days, are planning an "inter-alumni" football game between the two universities in an effort to heal the athletic breach between the institutions. Some of the most famous players from both schools are on the tentative line-up for the game. The game will be played in Yankee Stadium here on October 30.

Students Invited To Congregational Dinner

There will be a dinner for Congregational men of Middlebury and vicinity at the Middlebury Congregational Church next Saturday evening at 7:30. This dinner is one of a series at which the Congregational laymen of New England, assembling at various centrally located points, are taking opportunity to meet outstanding leaders of the denomination for discussion of the responsibilities and opportunities of the Church in its world-wide relations and also to consider the place of the layman in his own church and of the Congregational Church in the life of the nation.

Middlebury has been chosen as one of seven towns in Vermont to be favored with one of these regional dinners, and has been selected because of the fact that the college faculty and student body include a considerable number of men who should be especially interested. The Honorable John E. Weeks, Governor of Vermont, and Trustee of Middlebury College, is to be the presiding officer, while the speakers are Dr. James L. Barton, and Rev. William S. Beard of New York. Dr. Barton, honored alumnus of Middlebury, is without question one of the most widely known, most trusted and ablest statesman in the Congregational fellowship. Mr. Beard combines keen powers of observation and analysis with kindly humor in a fashion which makes him a peculiarly acceptable speaker for audiences of men. The program will be interspersed with group singing, and there will not be a dull moment.

Student tickets at fifty cents each may be obtained at Dean Wiley's office. It is hoped that all undergraduate men affiliated with Congregational churches will arrange to be present.

The election for captain will be held at a meeting of the squad to be held within a short time.

ball in Middlebury's possession but a stiff resistance made it expedient to punt. The Clark halfback blocked the punt and gained the pigskin well into the Freshman's territory. Owl, the Clark Indian fullback, then took the ball over the Black Panther's line for a second score, but failed to make the extra point.

Clark had the ball in Middlebury's field in the last quarter and following a series of rushes through the weakened Freshman line made a final tally. The game ended with the ball in Middlebury's possession on the Clark 15 yard line.

Although a rather unspectacular game to witness it nevertheless brought out the strong and weak points of the 1931 team. It also gave the Freshmen their first taste of hard football as well as giving the coach a line on the abilities of his players.

LIBRARY GROUP ENTERTAINED BY COLLEGE STUDENTS

Drama and Music Program Presented Last Night At Bennington

Dramatic club players successfully made their first out of town trip in two years when they went to Bennington yesterday and presented "Heathenlike" and "Inactivity", two of the finest one-act productions of last year's dramatic season, last night. These plays were given as entertainment feature of the Joint Annual Meeting of the Vermont Library Association and the Free Public Library Department being held in Bennington this week.

Accompanying the group from the Dramatic Club, the college trio, Miss Prudence Fish, Marjorie Cross '28 and James Thomson '29, gave musical selections on the evening's program. These received their well merited applause.

The casts of "Heathenlike" and "Inactivity" were the same as in previous productions with the exception of the role of Margaret in "Heathenlike" played before by Margaret Sedgwick '27 and in last night's presentation by Ethel Palmer '28. The able acting shown in the plays practically guaranteed the success of the out of town production.

Enthusiastic approval was accorded the entertainment by those attending the library conference, and the efforts of Professor Wm. Northrop Morse, director of the plays, were especially appreciated. The evening's program was arranged as follows:

P.A. is some little cheer-leader

EVERY pipe is a Sunny Jimmy-pipe when it's packed with P. A. The tidy red tin chases the blues—and how! Why, you feel better the instant you open the tin and get that marvelous P. A. aroma. Every chore becomes a cheer, and you're sitting on top of the world.

Then you load up and light up. That taste—that never-to-be-forgotten, can't-get-too-much-of-it taste! Cool as a cut-in from the stag-line. Sweet as retaliation. Mild and mellow and long-burning, with a balanced body that satisfies, right to the bottom of the bowl.

You find that P. A. never bites your tongue or parches your throat, no matter how often you stoke and smoke. Get on the sunny side of life with a pipe and P. A. Buy a tidy red tin today and make the personal test. Pipes were born for tobacco like this.
